

俊元拳 Chun Yuen Quan's 行手 Xing Shou

Xing Shou is one of the Chun Yuen Quan skills and it is a foundation for the Chun Yuen forms. Xing means "style", "element", or "gesture" and Shou means "hand". So Xing Shou means Style Hand. In the form we cover four hand gestures which are palm, fist, hook and fingers. The form also covers high and low positions as well as covering left and right, slow and fast ways to practise. But the most important thing is that Xing Shou trains our bones, muscles, joints and tendons in order to have good Qi and blood circulation which gives us good health. The main principles of all the Chun Yuen forms are good posture with body in line and hands and legs connecting together.
